PROFILE

I am a self-taught visual artist with some educational training through various elective art classes throughout my academic career. There has always been a natural gravitation towards art and having the ability to tap into that passion again has been amazing. I've been slowly growing my art portfolio and am looking forward to being in more art specific spaces. Currently, I mainly work with acrylic paints but plan to move into oils and then explore bringing in mixed media as well. My art journey is very personal as it has been my way of healing and transforming myself through very difficult times. I've found much love and joy with art and will continue to grow my knowledge and passion as I branch out and showcase my work.
