_SHORT BIOGRAPHY

"Her art is unique and new.

The distinctive expressive line can be easily recognized as one of her distinctive features, unparalleled in her artistic perception and character. Jutka meaningfully and expressively addresses aspects such as color emphasis, fluorescent references, and artistic sentiment, these elements representing remarkable points of her creations."

Dr. Peter Markovik, art critic, curator at Löffler Museum Kosice/Slovakia.

"The artist, art teacher, and designer was born and raised in Bucharest during the communist era. Escaping the communist and totalitarian state was difficult and dangerous - her attempts failed multiple times. Thus, the desire to escape remained a constant companion for Jutka. Along with her brother, Jan Stoian, known on the jazz scene, Jutka bravely protested in 1989 against Nicolae Ceaușescu, his dictatorship, and for human freedom. In 1990, she finally managed to emigrate to Germany. She lives between Bucharest and Bedburg/Germany. For Jutka, it is very clear that the form and content of her works matter as much as how, why, and for whom she creates them, having very deep ethical convictions. As a premise, her visually impressive works, extremely chromatic and laborious, are inspired by the observation of cultural, social, and political evolutions, working in concepts and exhibition projects. "My experience as a teacher has encouraged me to think about how art could have an impact and more directly engage the public," says Nicole Jutka. In over 12 years of activity as an art teacher, she has been very active, impacting over 200 educational art projects in her own art school or in various institutions with over 2000 participating students.

"Nicole Jutka has the courage and talent to use a powerful range of colors, specializing in fluorescent colors that she integrates into black light, thus creating a dual existence of the artwork, both in light and in darkness. A double existence, a parallel life or the so-called 'soul' of the painting, which acquires a 3D effect, like a sculptural painting, in a political and aesthetic context, a language that ethically and interactively serves the public.

Since 2013, Nicole Jutka has been exploring the relationship between light and darkness in the concept 'LIGHT PENETRATES DARKNESS', a powerful theme about our existence, a philosophical and spiritual Pandora's box. She uses fluorescent pigments to allow the viewer to enter another dimension, creating a universe of luminosity and vivid colors. Each composition transforms depending on the surrounding environment, like a sculpture with moving images.

Nicole Jutka, mother of two boys, stands out as an international visual artist, awarded multiple prizes and with exhibitions in prestigious museums. Her works can be found in collections in various countries such as Germany, the USA, France, Italy, Slovakia, and Romania. Since 2021, Nicole Jutka has also dedicated herself as the founder and curator of Nicole Jutka Gallery, an unconventional location with four addresses: Bucharest and Olimp in Romania, Bedburg in Germany, and Cannes, Côte D'Azur in France (collaboration)."

Dr. Anita Shah , Curator, Art critic

ARTIST STATEMENT_

My work is based on the message of light penetrating darkness, a profound concept that harbors a philosophical and spiritual Pandora's box about our existence: "Light penetrates darkness." I interpret light as love, joy, and peace, essential attributes necessary for human existence, discussing aspects such as its origin, our ways of discovering it, and its necessity in our lives. I study this idea, exploring the adventure of its search, without knowing with certainty where it will lead me. I am drawn to forms that emanate life, which are not static. Capturing the breath of nature through subtle contrasts and the use of intense colors, captured by modeled matter, represents an alchemy that fascinates me. I use fluorescent pigments to introduce another dimension, 3D, penetrating the space of darkness. Thus, the paintings metamorphose under black light, becoming a new creation, like a sculptural painting in motion, revealing the interior or soul of the work. This represents two completely different perspectives, two parallel existences that coexist in a dialogue between reality and transcendence.

"The Lake" reist um die Welt

One of the most striking pictures in the current exhibition in Glarus is "The Lake" by Romanian artist Nicole Jutka from her artwork series "Light Penetrates the Darkness - Hanging Gardens". Fluoreszierende Farben sorgen mit der richtigen Beleuchtung für einen ganz besonderen Effekt. Before the artwork found its way into Joana Dürig's gallery, it was part of international exhibitions in Miami, Vienna, Zurich and the Venice Biennale.
