

Cynthia Schumann is an abstract artist in Colorado whose bold use of color, movement, and form transforms blank canvases into worlds of energy, joy, and wonder. Inspired by nature and the cosmos. Her work radiates an uplifting spirit—each piece an invitation to dream beyond the ordinary. Creativity has always been woven into Cynthia’s life. An award-winning cosmetologist, salon owner, musician, and fashion designer, and has even navigated the fast-paced world of hotel sales management.

Her artistic journey began early, watching her mother paint in oils and developing her own passion for shape, style, and color as a young teen. She first challenged herself with watercolors—one of the most difficult mediums—mastering delicate depictions of wildlife and nature before fearlessly embracing abstract expressionism. Today, Cynthia primarily creates large-scale abstract works, and commissioned paintings, with nineteen commissions already bringing joy to clients. Her process is a dance between intention and spontaneity—starting with a vision, yet allowing the piece to evolve as she paints, resulting in works that feel alive with emotion and depth.

As the wife of a retired Navy Chaplain and a contract Broadcast Engineer for K-Love Radio and Daystar TV, Cynthia has traveled extensively, gathering inspiration from the world’s breathtaking landscapes, cultures, and celestial wonders. Her faith plays a vital role in her art, infusing her creations with a sense of peace, wonder, and divine connection. Cynthia was featured in “Artistcloseup” Magazine and Blog, December 2023 #12.

Interview — Artistcloseup.com - Your favorite place to discover new artists