I'm Montse, a contemporary Spanish artist, fabric and fashion designer with a rich and diverse career in fashion. I graduated from the Ramon Llull-ESDI University in Spain in 2003 and since then I have been working in the world of fashion. I have always combined my work with my creative facet and painting. I have created all kinds of products from clothing, prints, merchandasing, footwear, bags and accessories. I have experience in marketing and product development. I have led design teams and supervised productions in several countries managing the entire process from conceptualization to store distribution. In my free time I do different activities, I have been with my own online business for over a decade.

I like to paint above all abstract and colorfull things that fill my soul with a particular affinity for abstract and vibrant compositions that resonate with my inner self. Painting as a expresion of my internal emotions through the language of color. Music and color give life to my day.

"The expresion of emotions through color is the heart of my works."
