

Jamila Boughelaf

Visual and Performance Artist

Website: brush.bio/jamilaboughelaf

Instagram: @jamila_b_arts

London-based multidisciplinary artist working across visual art, performance, and improvisation. Explores identity, social justice, and ancestral memory through figurative painting, mixed media, and material experimentation. Incorporates natural and geographically sourced materials—such as henna, beeswax, and Sahara sand and rock—alongside improvisational processes, creating work that engages memory, gesture, and the body in immersive spatial compositions.
