Work Experience

FREELANCING 12/2021 - Nowadays
Freelance contemporary artist

Independently manage all aspects of my artistic practice, from concept development and digital production to project management, communication, marketing, and online presentation. Combine photography, digital technologies, graphic design, and AI-assisted creative tools to produce contemporary artworks and collections. Strongly self-motivated and accustomed to working independently, managing multiple projects, meeting deadlines, communicating with diverse audiences, and continuously learning new technologies and creative techniques.

TELUS INTERNATIONAL 12/2019 - 12/2020
Customer service assistant

Delivered professional customer support in a fast-paced international environment, handling customer enquiries, resolving problems, providing accurate information, and ensuring a positive customer experience. Demonstrated strong communication, active listening, problem-solving, attention to detail, adaptability, and the ability to work efficiently with digital tools and diverse customers.

CATHWAY PACIFIC AIRWAYS 03/2018 - 12/2019
Customer service representative

Provided high-quality customer service in an international aviation environment, assisting passengers with travel enquiries, bookings, flight information, baggage matters, and service-related concerns. Developed strong skills in communication, problem-solving, conflict resolution, cultural awareness, and working under pressure while consistently maintaining professionalism and attention to detail.

Project

MY UNIVERSE 05/2026 - Nowadays
Curator

MY UNIVERSE is a personal collection of 50 NFTs carefully selected and collected by me — a constellation of artworks that represents the digital art world as I experience it, understand it, and feel connected to it. Rather than being a collection built around a single aesthetic or artistic movement, MY UNIVERSE reflects my personal eye as an artist and collector. Each NFT has been chosen because it carries something that speaks to me: an emotion, an idea, a

Interest

- People & Communication — I genuinely enjoy talking to people, listening carefully and understanding what they need. I find satisfaction in helping someone move from a problem to a practical solution.
- Cultures — I enjoy discovering different perspectives and ways of thinking.
- Problem-Solving — I naturally like finding solutions, organising information and paying attention to details others might overlook.
- Technology & Digital Tools — I am curious about technology and enjoy learning new software and digital tools. I usually learn new systems quickly through practice.
- Art & Photography — Photography and contemporary digital art are an important part of my life. They have visual language, a particular atmosphere, or a sense of artistic honesty.
